"You've gotta go see The Mummy at this place!

It's a great feeling when you chance upon a discovery, especially one right under your nose. Excuse me while I get a little enthusiastic here...

The Tri-Cities Seven Cinemas near Blountville (exit 66 off I-81, in the Factory Stores of America building) is simply the best theatre experience I've had in a long time. The concept here is 'intimate cinema,' with none of the seven movie rooms over 200 seats, and half are 87 seats, for an effect not unlike watching a really big screen movie in your den. In this atmosphere, digital surround sound actually works like it's suppose to! I've seen movies in theatres like this in places like San Francisco, Oxford, Ohio before and always enjoyed them much more than the regular big-hall cinemas: this multiplex is every bit as good, and brand new to boot. The emphasis is on quality, and the Tri-Cities Seven delivers...

A quick look around the theatre before the show began revealed that there are literally no bad seats in the house. This is due to what the owners of the theater call Stealth Cinema Design, with curved corners, pie-shaped rooms, stadium-style seating and wide isles. Trust me, it'll be the way you want to see every movie on the big screen from now on...

In addition, the multiplex offers a video arcade and party room...

Don't miss an opportunity to experience a movie the way, I'm sure its director intended it to be seen."
